Local adult school to reopen

Contingent on approval of union contract

By Brenda Dunkle

Pending school board approval, Chino Valley Adult School plans to reopen July 23, principal Rick Landorf said Thursday.

The adult school was closed in June after the school board voted to lay off its clerical and teaching staff as a part of a district wide $19.7 million budget cutting plan.

Mr. Landorf said re-opening the school at Third and B streets in Chino is contingent on the board approving a 2012-13 contract with Associated Chino Teachers (ACT) union when the school board meets at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Mr. Landorf said if the board approves the contract, the adult school will open with all of the classes it offered this spring: English as a second language, computer literacy (for ESL students), U.S. citizenship, high school credit recovery, adult GED (General Educational Development), and adult high school diploma.

The school's GED test center, for students who want to earn a high school equivalent certificate, would continue from 4 to 8 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays, he said.

If it opens, the school should have its entire teaching staff back, including one full-time high school diploma/GED teacher, and two English as a second language teachers, he said, as well as nine teachers who work part time to provide the other classes.

The school lost two instructional aides, one

Police jail suspect in series of burglaries

By Josh Thompson

Chino Police arrested an Anaheim man in connection with at least eight burglaries during the past six weeks. In two of the incidents women were attacked in their homes.

Diego Escobar, 29, was arrested at 10:56 a.m. July 6 at the Royal Roman Motel at 1504 E. First St. in Santa Ana, said Chino spokeswoman Michelle Van Der Linden.

Mr. Escobar, a parolee, was booked without bail at West Valley Detention Center in Rancho Cucamonga.

Chino Police were assisted by the California Department of Corrections Fugitive Apprehension Team and the U.S. Marshal's Southwest Regional Fugitive Task Force.

Mr. Escobar is suspected in a string of home burglaries in Chino between late May and June 28 in an area bounded by Central and Mountain avenues and the 60 Freeway and Riverside Drive, Ms. Van Der Linden said.

All the burglaries took place between 8 p.m. and 3 a.m., she added.

Police issued a news release on the burglaries June 29 after the eighth reported burglary the night before at 11 p.m.

In that case, a purse was visible through a window and the thief tried to remove a window screen.

"In the eight incidents, the man entered five homes taking a purse or cash. In two cases, the victim encountered the burglar, who attacked her before fleeing with her purse or cash," Ms. Van Der Linden said.

"I appreciate the assistance of our fellow agencies in helping us make this arrest," said Chino Police Chief Miles Pruitt. "The resources they provided proved to be valuable in locating our suspect."

Anyone with information on the burglaries can call Chino Police Department at 628-1234.

Federal funds ensure state park won't close

By Marianne Napoles

Despite budget cuts to the State Park system, the Chino Hills State Park is safe from closure thanks to federal funds used long ago to acquire property.

"We're one of the lucky ones," said Claire Schlotterbeck, executive director of Hills for Everyone, the grassroots group that founded the park and operated it from 1982 to 1984, before it was deeded a state park.

"We can't be closed or the federal government would be in breach of contract," she said.

When the state Department of Parks and Recreation began acquiring land for the Chino Hills State Park in the 1980s from private property owners, funding for one of the parcels came from the Department of Interior's National Park Service land and water conservation fund (LWCF).

"Strings were attached to those funds—the land has to be maintained for public use," said Ms. Schlotterbeck.

Former Gov. Schwarzenegger proposed the closure of 220 state parks two years ago, including Chino Hills State Park, but the Department of Interior sent a letter to the state Department of Parks and Recreation that it could not close any park that received the Park Service funds.

Although the Chino Hills park is closed Tuesdays through Thursdays, it is open more than it is closed, which is considered enough for public use, Ms. Schlotterbeck said.

Roy Steams, deputy director for communication for the California Department of Parks and Recreation, said

Warrant leads to arrest in pair of shootings

By Josh Thompson

Police arrested a 45-year-old Chino man late Sunday night in the June 30 shooting of two men at Riverside Drive and Benson Avenue in Chino.

Mike Malgra was taken into custody at 11:52 p.m. as he was sitting in a parked car in the 12800 block of 16th Street in Chino. A warrant had been issued for Mr. Malgra's arrest, said city spokeswoman Michelle Van Der Linden.

Mr. Malgra was booked on $2.5 million bail at West Valley Detention Center in Rancho Cucamonga.

Police were called around 1 a.m. to the parking lot of the Donut Avenue at 5702 Riverside Drive on a report of a man shot.

As police were administering first aid to the victim, a second man with a gunshot wound was found across the street. The victims, identified as Marcus Maturino, 36, and Jose Hernandez, 31, both of Chino, suffered non-life threatening injuries.

The suspect and the victims know each other and have suspected gang affiliations, police said.

The shooting was the second at Riverside Drive and Benson Avenue in six weeks. On May 27, Joel Rendon, 23, of Chino was shot in the same parking lot around 10:44 p.m. and died less than an hour later at Chino Valley Medical Center.

Joshua Michael Silva, 26, of Whittier was arrested in connection with the shooting three hours later on Harrison Street in Chino.

Anyone with information may contact Chino Police at 628-1234.

Three-event day keeps Community Building busy

A big day today at Chino's Community Building with three events from breakfast through dinner.

The doors open from 7 to 11 for a Breakfast for Life public cancer fundraiser by the Chino Valley Lions Club at a very affordable $5. The event will be held on the site of the founding of the original Chino Lions Club in 1940. Chino's second service club was disbanded in 1993 because of lack of membership, but the banner was picked up by the Chino Hills Lions Club, which has become the Chino Valley Lions Club representing the entire district.

The second event from noon to 5 is the 75th anniversary picnic of Boy Scout Troop 201, originally Chino Troop 1, founded on that site by the American Legion in 1925. The troop has had several sponsors, including the old Chino Recreation Association and the present Chino Rotary Club.

The 75 years was determined by the number of months it was registered with Boy Scouts of America, according to troop officials. It is actually older, but apparently went "dark" for a few years, including World War II.

The Scouts plan to provide hot dogs, hamburgers and lemonade. The picnic is also potluck, and will be held in the Community Building park, where the Scout House is located. Former Scouts and troop friends are invited. Starting at 5:15, a Chino Relay for Life team called East Meets West will hold a bunco fundraiser at the Community Building, open to the public.

Tickets are $35 at the door and include dinner and dessert catered by Pappachino's, soft drinks, and bunco. There will also be prize drawings, and a 50/50 raffle. Seating begins at 4:30 p.m. and the event is scheduled to conclude at 9:15.

the Chino Hills State Park is considered a Park Service-funded park. "If they stay open in some manner and are accessible to the public, they meet the requirements for staying open," he said.
 This month, 70 out of the 279 California parks were slated for closure by the State Department of Parks and Recreation after its budget was trimmed by $22 million for fiscal year 2012-13.
 When the list was published in May 2011, the state began seeking partners to keep the parks open. Now, 40 of the parks have agreements for organizations to donate funds for the state to operate the park, or for an organization to operate the park and pays itself for the day-to-day costs.
 Agreements for another 25 parks are in the works.
 "We're not standing still or sitting on our hands," Mr. Steams said. "Our goal is to do everything possible to keep parks open, and that includes a very aggressive program to find partners."
 Some of the partners include non-profits, cities, counties, park associations, leagues, and Friends groups, he said.

 Although the Chino Hills State Park has not been closed, it has been subject to service reductions, and groups are stepping up to generate public interest.
 The Chino Hills Interpretive Association hosts overnight camps and hikes. "We had a very successful night hike," said Neil Connolly, president. "We are re-energizing and want people to know what the park is all about."
 Mr. Connolly said he could use a bike patrol partner and needs others to lead interpretive hikes.

 Hills for Everyone is the park's watchdog that monitors development projects adjacent to the state park. The group is reviewing environmental documents for the widening of the 91 Freeway to make sure Cal Oaryn remains a functioning wildlife corridor, Ms. Schlotterbeck said.
 The Hills group also acts as a fiscal agent to accept grants for park projects, when a state agency may not be able to get a grant. A recent Earth Day project, for example, was made possible with grant money provided by The Gas Co.
 Ms. Schlotterbeck will present a history of the park at 8 p.m. Saturday, July 21, at the park's Rolling M Ranch amphitheater, as part of the State Park's summer nature series.
 The State Park Foundation hosts work parties once a month to fix trails, and the Puente Chino Hills Task Force of the Sierra Club repairs bridges and leads hikes.
